After successfully moving a full house of 100 judges to stand up during her mesmerizing rendition of Sia's 'I'm Alive', Shellyann was crowned winner of the show and its £50,000 prize. Since her victory, new music has been in high demand, and she is currently in the studio working on original material due for release later this year. In the meantime Shellyann has released an acoustic series out now on Spotify.

As a familiar face in local music venues and down the country, Shellyann is thrilled to be playing her own headline shows "I've always wanted to be the headline act and this is finally happening. It's what I've always dreamed of and I can't wait to put on an amazing live show. I've been given a chance to do this by a great team and I can't wait, thanks to them I'm getting my original music heard. There is no other feeling like what's happening right now."

Throughout the series Shellyann achieved no less than 98/100 judges standing for her performances (the first in the TV shows history). Her voice was described as 'incredible & magical' by head judge and Spice Girl Geri Halliwell, followed by support from Welsh actor Michael Sheen congratulating her on the big win, labelling it 'fantastic'.

Following her passion for music from a young age, Shellyann has performed in local pubs, clubs and venues since the age of 11. She has worked as a seasoned professional and has gained a reputation for her compelling and show-stopping performances. Shellyann lives in Swansea with fiancé Pete, son Regan and step-children Josh and Holly and works as a support teacher at a local school.
